Defeat East Jordan 26-0

Harbor Rams Here For Homecoming

The Grayling Viking ship sailed well on the rainsoaked gridiron at East Jordan last Friday evening as the green and white extended their win streak to four games, as they defeated the Red Devils 26-0.

All of Grayling's points came in the first quarter, as two of the touchdowns were the result of blocked punts by Jim Corlew. He blocked three in all during the game.

This Friday evening, the Vikings entertain Harbor Springs Rams in their annual homecoming game as they hit the half way point in their drive for a second NLML championship.

Last Friday Harbor Springs jolted the Onaway Cardinals 26-8 for their first league win, on the runing of their halfback, Marshall Cory.

The Vikings will have their work cut out for them in their attempt to corral the Ram's speedster, who was the league's 100 yard dash winner last spring.

In other league contests Friday, Manelona continued undefeated as they shutout Kalkaska 20-0, and Petoskey St. Francis defeated the Pellston Hornets 24-10.

At East Jordan, the Vikings exploded for their four touchdowns in the first quarter, and then battled the Red Devils to a scoreless standoff the rest of the game.

The Vikings won the toss, and elected to kickoff with the wind at their backs. The defense held the Red Devils, and forced them to punt. Corlew, Viking middle linebacker broke through a nd blocked the kick on the 15 yard line, where Lenny Leininger scooped up the loose ball and went into the end zone for the first TD.

Following the kickoff the Viking defense held again to force East Jordan to punt, and again Corlew broke through to block (See Football on page 10)

DNR to Provide Leadership

AuSable Study Starts This Fall

LANSING — The Department of Natural Resources will undertake a pilot study project in Crawford County as a step toward resolving growing problems of users conflicts on the AuSable River system. The study was recommended by Deputy Director (Field) Warren W. Shapton in response to pleas from the AuSable River System Property Owners Association.

Appearing at the September meeting of the Commission in Traverse City, Harrison R. Goodhue, president of the property owners group, cited increasing problems of littering, vandalism and "inexcusably bad behavior of a minority of canoeists" as cause for deep concern among the more than 400 members of his association.

Goodhue proposed a nine-point program of action to cope with the situation. In general, his plan recommended tighter restrictions on canoeists and campers along the river, accompanied by stepped-up law enforcement efforts by both local and state officers. Responding for the Department, Shapton said:

"I have to agree with Mr. Goodhue that non-compatible uses... have reached the point where a solution must be reached and the degradation problem solved in the stream itself if the recreational potential is to be maintained. If controls are not initiated soon, fishing in perhaps the greatest trout stream east of the Mississippi will be reduced to mediocrity, property values will be depreciated, and the area's greatest economic asset will be in jeopardy."

Shapton said the basic problem results from "too many people trying to use the same stretch of river for several different types of recreation all at the same time" and added:

"From the opening of the trout season until Labor Day, the cottage owners, the fisherman and the canoeists are in direct daily confrontation. After the 25th of June the campers and swimmers arrive, and more recently a lawless element has also appeared, who seem to be determined to disrupt the activities of all the others."

The suggestion that Crawford County be the site for a pilot study came from Earl H. (Chum) Longworth, Executive Manager of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce.

Shapton called Longworth's suggestion "excellent" because "Crawford County has already taken the initiative with their Green Belt Zoning ordinance and has shown the capacity to tackle and lick tough environmental problems." Another plus factor is that working within a single county means the Department will be dealing with only one set of local government agencies.

The Department's role will be to provide strong leadership and direction in working with representatives of all the principal interest groups. The involvement of local people is considered essential because local acceptance will be necessary for any plan to succeed.

Control measures worked out for the AuSable might later be adapted to other streams where problems similar to those on the AuSable exist, but to a lesser degree. Streams in this category include the Manistee, Pere Marquette and Pine, among others. Any-use limitations imposed on the AuSable could well intensify conflicts elsewhere by shifting pressures to other rivers.

A study committee for the project is expected to be formed this fall, and its first recommendations should be ready for trial next spring when the heavy-use season starts. Possible approaches include reduction in numbers of the several types of recreationists and/or time and space zoning to separate them.

Following a public announcement of the study project plan in Traverse City, the Department has received many communications indicating recognition that serious problems do indeed exist on the AuSable and expressing willingness to cooperate in solving them.

DIVERS CLEAN RIVER — Twenty-six scuba divers from four Detroit area clubs cleaned debris from the AuSable River Sunday from the U.S.-27 bridge to Louie's Landing. Chairmen of the Fall clean-up were Tony and Ethel Mowczan of Warren. Clubs participating were the Hamtramck Divers, Ford Sea Lancers, Michigan Water Scorpions and Dolphins. Dinner was served to the group by the Grayling Woman's Club with Ray's Canoe Livery furnishing the canoes and also providing the dinner. (Photo by Al Harland)

Tourist Is Not a Dirty Word

By James M. Hall

Executive Vice-Pres. EMATA In the lexicon of some limited thinking people, the word "Tourist" has taken on a "dirty" connotation. Most of us have heard more than one friend or neighbor grousing about "tourists, jamming up our highways and crowding our beaches." It's an old story, fancy not fact.

Recent statistics released by the Michigan Tourist Council, the State government agency charged with promoting tourism in the State, tell part of the story. The conclusion we reached is that tourism, as it has developed in Michigan, is decid-ly more than a mixed blessing. The Tourist Council reports that vacation spending in Michigan topped $1,300,000,000 — 1.3 billion dollars — in 1969. That's a lot of sun tan oil, picture postcards, meals and lodgings. What's more, upwards of $85,000,000 of it will enhance the public treasury in the form of tax dollars this year.

By way of comparison, it is interesting to note that 10 years ago, these two statistics were $600 million and $48.5 million, respectively.

Where has it gone? It hasn't gone! It has stayed right here. Some examples: 40,000 tourists related businesses — an increase of 12,000 from ten years ago. 140,000 jobs — up from 100,000 jobs ten years ago — $100 million in new capital investment — to well over a billion dollars in facilities.

There's a lot we individuals can do to further this growth. The next time a "tourist" stops to make a purchase or ask directions give him a friendly helping hand, whether he's from Michigan or out of the State. Ten years ago there were ten million of him, this year there will be over 15 million.

He may be one of the best friends you've got!

JOLLY GALS CLUB

The Jolly Gals Hobby Club held their annual revealing party in the form of a dinner on Wednesday, Sept. 30, at the Lake Margrethe home of Nancy Cox.

Election of officers was held and they are chairman, Merle Carlson; secretary - treasurer, Mary Houle; and project chairman, Lynn Reeves. Secretarial gifts were exchanged and new names drawn. Joan Ferguson won the penny prize.

The evening was spent reminiscing over the club. It was first started out as a Home Extension Club 17 years ago and branched out on its own. Merle Carlson is the member with the longest standing and Nancy Cox is the newest member. The club membership has been kept to just 12 members.

The Halloween masquerade party will be held at the home of Jan Schichtel on October 29.

Traverse City State Hospital Looks Forward to Christmas

It may seem a bit early to begin planning for Christmas but not if you had to plan for as many as 2,200 people, as does Traverse City State Hospital. A great amount of time and effort in behalf of the hospital's patient population is required to insure a "Merry Christmas for all patients."

It takes time for clubs and civic organizations, churches and schools, to formulate plans and to take action in time to participate in the Christmas effort at the hospital.

Organizations within the 39-county area assigned to the institution are invited to begin at this early date to make plans to take part in the Christmas activities for Traverse City State Hospital patients. Volunteers will begin wrapping presents on November 16. The hospital would like to receive as many of the gifts as possible by that date. Certainly gifts should not arrive later than December 1.

The sorting and wrapping of all gifts is a tremendous task. It takes much time and effort on the part of our volunteers. It must be completed by the 17th of December.

Each year the Community Relations Department obtains a list of all patients on all wards with their needed or desired items. The hospital tries to provide gifts on the basis of this list as much as possible, but it can do so only if gifts arrive early enough.

Gifts do not have to be expensive but they must be new. Civic groups, clubs, churches, schools and individuals are cordially invited to take part in the 1970 Christmas program. It is suggested that some of the men's service organizations concentrate on gifts for men, school children on gifts for children, etc. Gifts should not be wrapped, but wrapping materials should accompany them. Such items as toiletries for both men and women, inexpensive items of clothing for all ages from 5 years to 100 years, books, games, puzzles, smoking materials, fruit, candies and an inexhaustible list of Christmas gifts are suggested.

Additional information can be obtained by writing to Community Relations Department, Box C, Traverse City, Mich. 49684. Gifts when sent to the hospital, should be addressed the same way. Be sure the name of the club, organization or individual is in the package.

Boy Scouts Recruit 600 New Members In One Night

School Night for Scouting on September 30 resulted in signing up more than 600 new boys for the Boy Scouts of America. The emphasis was put on Cub Scouts, the program for boys 8-9-10 years of age, yet 83 Boy Scout candidates showed up at various schools, eager to join.

A new troop was formed at the community of Rhodes in Gladwin County with Walter VanWormer as Scoutmaster and The Pines District Committee as Sponsor. This is a new system of sponsorship made effective by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America only September 1, 1970. The new provision also allows women to serve as members of a troop committee.

Boys and parents who were unable to be present for signing up on School Night, may still do so by contacting a leader whom they may know or get in touch with the Boy Scouts of America, 402 E. Ellsworth Street, Midland, phone 835-7788. Men and women interested in serving may also phone this number.

Scouting is for all boys eight years of age or in the third grade on up through high school. No boy will be denied the program regardless of race, creed, color or financial circumstances. Scouting is made possible in the Paul Bunyan Councils seven county areas through support of the United Fund campaigns in Midland and Iosco Counties and by Sustaining Membership Enrollments in the other 12 communities of the Council.

At Frederic there were three Cub Scouts and three Boy Scouts joining, with 28 Cub Scouts and six Boy Scouts recruited at Grayling.

CMU Receives Grant For Drug Study

by Joe Baker

MT. PLEASANT — Central Michigan University's Department of Health Education has received a $10,000 grant from the State Department of Education to be used in the fight against drug abuse in northern Michigan's public schools.

The grant will be used to establish a two-part program consisting of inservice training sessions for public school personnel and the establishment of a Drug Education Materials Center in the Health Education Department at CMU.

The workshops, which will begin next month, will also assist districts in initiating or continuing drug education programs at their schools. Part Two of the program will also enable the University Audiovisual Center to make books, pamphlets, films and filmstrips available to school personnel and to publish a newsletter to the schools informing them of the materials as they become available.

Training Centers will be established in Mt. Pleasant, Saginaw, Traverse City and Alpena to serve the respective surrounding areas. Each school district is eligible to send a team of five persons to the workshops. The team should consist of an administrator, a junior high school teacher, a senior high school teacher, a counselor and one other person of the district's choice.

"It is hoped that members of these teams will assume responsibility for initiating, coordinating or teaching a drug education program upon completion of the workshop," explains Donald J. Breckon, assistant professor of health education at CMU and program coordinator.

Transportation costs will be paid to teams from areas outside the county that the training center is located in. A lunch allowance will also be provided.

One hour of graduate or undergraduate credit in health education will be offered for those interested. Each workshop will be held for two consecutive Saturdays.

The workshop schedule is as follows:
Mt. Pleasant — Oct. 24 and 31.
Location: CMU, Pearce Hall 138.
Saginaw — Nov. 14 and 21.
Location: CMU Center at Saginaw Valley College.

Alpena — March 27 and April 3.
Location: Intermediate School District Regional Headquarters.
Traverse City — April 17 and 24.
Location: Traverse Bay Intermediate School District Building.

Empty Stomachs and Communism

Columnist Bruce Bissat in the Annapolis Evening Capital has given some comparative figures on food production in communist versus non-communist nations. Anyone who wishes to eat regularly may find Mr. Bissat's information of interest. While communist nations are great talkers, when it comes to "land reform", they are consistently the world's worst farm producers.

"Not too long ago," observed Mr. Bissat, "48 percent of the Soviet labor force was still engaged in farming . . ." In the United States today, only 6 percent of the total labor force works on farms. And, out of our agricultural abundance, one fifth of all the cropland harvested in the United States produces for export. By contrast, in communist China, available food supplies, according to Mr. Bissat, " . . . have remained roughly constant since 1965, though China's population keeps growing." Agricultural production in noncommunist Asian nations, such as Thailand, has soared. History and the statistics show that communism and a full stomach rarely travel in the same company.

It Won't Work

Another example of the futility of passing laws that don't work is contained in an AP dispatch from Washington. The AP story described the Gun Control Act of 1968 as an attempt to keep tabs on guns in the hands of private citizens. It tells how, after passage of this legislation, output of cheap handguns, known as "Saturday Night Specials", multiplied astronomically. Reportedly, gun manufacturers spring up overnight, and "sometimes they close down the next day."

The Gun Control Act is reminiscent of the days of prohibition. Virtually anyone can manufacture a gun or learn how to make bootleg whiskey. However, there is a world of difference between a law that seeks to repress legitimate ownership of firearms and that statutory farce known as prohibition. Ownership of firearms by law-abiding citizens is a fundamental right under U.S. constitutional government. Any law abridging that right strikes at the elementary principle of individual responsibility under self-government rather than at the criminal element. Such a law is unworkable because every law-abiding citizen in the country could be disarmed and the perpetrators of crime would go merrily on their way.

Representative Al Ullman of the State of Oregon put the proposition in a nutshell when he said, "In my judgement, the answer to crimes committed with guns is stricter penalties for criminals not undue restrictions on law-abiding citizens." The Gun Control Act of 1968 lumped the law abiding and the criminal in one pot. It won't work.

Lake Board Not All That Powerful

by Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

Act 345 of Public Acts of 1966 provides for the organization of lake improvement boards to make improvements on lakes.

Some people who supported a lake improvement board are having second thoughts about the whole thing.

Their fears that lake improvement boards will have broad powers of making special assessments districts are unfounded. Lake boards cannot initiate action. Action by the lake board can only begin upon the request of a local governing body. (section nine.)

For instance suppose the people of Gerrish township decided they wanted to do something about Kennedy drain. Lets say they wanted to do something to improve the quality of water entering Higgins Lake from that source. They would bring this to the attention of the Gerrish Township Board. If the Township Board felt this was needed, they would by resolution direct the lake board to institute proceedings to get the job done.

The lake board does not go ahead and do projects on its own.

Another thing that perturbs some people, there is no provision in the law for a vote of the people regarding the special assessment district. Two public hearings are required in the process, however. The first is after the lake board has determined the scope of the project and estimate of probable assessments for the project.

The second public hearing is after the assessments have been proposed.

The time and place of each public hearing must be advertised in the local newspaper two times before the hearing. In this matter people are informed of the hearings.

This is the same standard procedure for establishing a drainage special assessment district. This has been going on for over 50 years.

The property owner has three safeguards: Through their elected township officials and through the two public hearings.

Lake improvement boards seem to be the only way to get any significant improvements on a lake. Local people will have to assume the greater responsibility for lake improvement.

Judges Lost In The Corner

Quick now, for $1 million in prizes and trading stamps, who are the candidates running in the Nov. 3 general election for the Michigan Court of Appeals?

Running for what, you say? When, you say? Who, you say?

Unfortunately for our judicial system in Michigan, this is just about the impression these three important elective jobs are making on the minds of the voters.

As judgeships go, these are good jobs. They are prestigious, well-paying, and the decisions of the jurists carry considerable weight.

But the interest in serving on the court of appeals this year was very low. And the dent on the consciousness of most voters is even lower.

The appellate court system was set up in the 1963 constitution as a half-way system—half-way between the circuit courts and the state supreme court. Originally, nine judgeships were established from three separate circuits—three from Wayne county; three from the second district, which spreads in a semi-circle out from Wayne county and includes generally southeastern Michigan, including Lansing; and three from the third district, which covers the vast reaches of the rest of the state.

Then we added one more from each district a few years back, so now we have a 12-man court, which generally serves in panels of three judges.

Chief judge is T. John Leininski from Detroit in the first district (Remember him? Former lieutenant governor who wanted the Democratic nomination for state supreme court this year, but didn't get it).

No. 2 judge is John Fitzgerald from Grand Ledge in the third district (Remember him? Former state senator whose father, the late Frank Fitzgerald, was secretary of state and twice elected as governor back in the 30s).

As I said, somehow these jobs weren't too attractive this year. In the first district of Wayne county, only one candidate even filed for the job—the incumbent judge, John Gillis. He's assured of a new term on the bench.

In the second district, two candidates filed—the incumbent judge, Robert J. Danhof of East Lansing, a former federal district attorney and legal advisor to the governor who was appointed to the bench by former Gov. Romney; and Don Freeman of Flint, presently a Genesee circuit judge.

In the third district, two candidates also filed—the incumbent judge, Robert Burns of Grand Rapids, and young district judge from Coldwater, James Carr.

On the non-partisan ballots on Nov. 3, the incumbents—Danhof and Burns—will carry the identifying designation as incumbents, which is a pair of races drawing as little attention as these should prove a decided advantage.

The average voter will have to do a lot of probing to find these appellate judge races when he goes into the voting booth on Nov. 3.

In paper ballot precincts, they will be on a separate non-partisan ballot. In machine precincts, they'll be down in the corner, away from the party columns. Be sure to look for them; these are important jobs.

A hot emotional issue in many parts of the state is the question of whether strikers should be eligible for food stamps and eventually for direct relief from federal, state and county funds.

In most of Michigan's urban areas, General Motors strikers otherwise eligible are now lining up for federal food stamps; direct relief may be not far in the future, depending upon the duration of the strike and other elements of eligibility of specific striker's families.

This is an emotional issue which could find its way into the campaign arena before the Nov. 3 election. However, I would guess it won't become too widespread as an issue. It's really an issue where a candidate who takes a stand can't win for losing.

Be A Volunteer

By Merrily Baldwin
Extension Home Economist

Do you have some time and skill to share? You say you do, but you don't know how to go about sharing?

Come to the Volunteer Training Workshops presented by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Two workshops are planned, October 14 and October 21, in the basement meeting room, Roscommon County Building. Both of the workshops will begin at 9:30 and continue until 3:30, with a one-hour break for lunch.

These are not separate workshops. They will cover two different phases of volunteer training, therefore you are urged to attend both days' programs.

The basic areas of concern in volunteer work will be discussed: Awareness, developing an insight into self and others; needs of the community and individuals; How to relate to the people you work with as a volunteer; what can you offer to satisfy local needs?

You are welcome to attend one or both of these workshops, as a prospective volunteer or as a visitor. Format of the sessions will allow for group participation and all questions and suggestions will be considered by the group.

If you have any questions concerning the workshop, please call Merrily Baldwin, Cooperative Extension Service, 275-5043.

AUDUBON MEETING

The Pigeon River Audubon Club is extending a special invitation to all the members of the Gaylord Camera Club, to attend their October 15th meeting in Room 211, Gaylord High School at 8:00 p.m.

The Churches are very active in Camera Clubs and have received many honors and awards for their photography. They are also active in local and National Audubon Clubs in Ashland, Ky., where they reside.

Presently they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Oschner on Douglas Lake, Otsego County. While they are here they expect to photograph fall colors in the beautiful Pigeon River area, as well as any wildlife they may chance to see.

Mr. Church is retired from the Allied Chemical Company, Nitrogen Division, South Point, Ohio, where he was chief chemist. Mrs. Church is a former school teacher.

The meeting is open to the public. There is no charge. Refreshments will be served.

New County Road Route Numbering System Adopted

Michigan county road commissions have approved a new standard route marking system to aid travelers and improve identifications of primary county roads. As pictured above, the new maize and blue signs will show a letter followed by two numbers and the county name. Earl F. Rogers, County Road Association engineer-director, said letters will designate eight zones in the state, as shown, while even numbers indicate East-West routes and odd numbers North-South. Low numbers will start at the East or South, progressing to higher numbers in the West or North of each zone. Shift to the new system, which will be shown on new state highway maps, will be gradual due to cost of re-signing major routes.

The permit was then approved and signed by the Commissioners.

Letters To The Editor

Crawford County Avalanche
224 Michigan
Grayling, Mich. 49738
Editor:

I was wondering just how many more are aware of the high cost of living especially the price of food. The wages we, that my husband and I, both, make we can't afford to raise our family.

We checked with the welfare and it was stated that we make a little too much money for help. If I wasn't working we could get stamps to buy food at the stores; the very same places that made our need for help in the first place because of high cost of food. "What ever happened to the Government commodities?"

Please, we, the county, need help. It's supposed to be for the needy and with our wages and high cost we are in need. This also applies for the working man. Give it back to us.

Another thing, the welfare asks for your net pay when you apply for help. The net pay isn't what you receive to live on.

Now days you have to have insurance or never plan on getting sick or you're turned out the door. You can't even afford to be ill. Our insurance we pay is over half the amount set aside for food a week.

In other cities they have higher wages, the cost of food is lower and a lot of the employers even pay for their insurance. I've heard it said stores raise the price of food because of the tourist. This is not true. We pay those prices all the time.

Sincerely, Desperate

Letters To The Editor

October 5, 1970

Editor
Crawford County Avalanche
Grayling, Mich. 49738

Dear Mr. Madsen:

This is my first letter to any editor and I also wish to add my thanks for your printing the letter from Joseph V. Wilcox in the September 24th edition of the paper.

I believe Derek McEvers reply to the accusations made should open many eyes to what has been done and is being done regarding pollution by the City of Grayling. How many critics have taken the time to go to the sewage treatment plant to see what goes on? I did prior to 1967 and was most impressed with the facilities at that time; so how can the situation be so drastic since the installation of the Dow Polymer Flocculation Process? I might add that I do not live in the city but 15 miles from town so know what it is to put in your own water and septic system.

I think an apology is long overdue the City on this charge along with many of the other thoughts expressed.

Except for a short time during World War II when I worked as a demonstrator for Hartz Mountain, I have been a resident of Crawford County since 1932. I have worked at a resort and bar and am on call to serve the public in a Grayling shop whenever needed so have been on both sides of the counter and I must disagree with the charge that the retailers in this area are rude or impolite. I have found the clerks ready and willing to assist me and when an item was not in stock whenever needed have had them offer to order it for me. If this is rudeness or incivility I am afraid I do not understand the English language and I should as I am English and have traveled north, south, east and west.

Mr. Longworth is not a personal friend of mine but I know of him and think he is doing a most difficult job well. I wonder if you have had a position with more than one boss and have tried to satisfy each at all times. As to fishing in any lake or river; I agree it is difficult but is it the population of Crawford County that has made it so or the people coming into the area for pleasure on their vacations? I live on one of the lakes so have first hand knowledge of the activities. How else is one to make a living if not by trying to accommodate the visitors to the district?

Last but not least there is zoning and if you don't believe it read the Avalanche more thoroughly and don't blame the Crawford County natives for acts of developers which is progress for the northern area, or would you still prefer to walk while others ride?

Let us not condemn another until we have walked in his shoes.

I have had the privilege of shopping in Gaylord, Kalkaska and Traverse City also and have received the same courteous service as offered in Grayling.

Just a servant of the people,
Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Margaret Rogala

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

don't knock it

Maybe you don't like rock and roll, but there's vibrancy to its beat that lets kids express themselves. Even if it isn't your kind of music it's their kind of music. Perhaps the "generation gap" may be narrowed slightly if you'll listen.

Life, remember, is a process of give and take. Adults and teenagers have to give a little if they are going to reach mutual understanding. If, in the beginning, you've given the basic things — like faith, love and respect, then you've nothing to worry about.

But it's never too late. For instance — have you gone with your teenager to church lately?

For richer or poorer, Through gladness and tears, Our wonderful parents Are wed 50 years.

So, in recognition Of this golden occasion We want them to celebrate With friends and relation.

We kids moved away Quite a while ago, so We just couldn't count All the friends our folks know.

We don't know the addresses Of old friends and new And we don't want to miss A single one of you.

Public communication We thought would be best Just leave out invitations And all the rest.

Tell all of your friends Cause, we know Mom and Dad To stop by for a chat Would be grateful for that.

And, if you have a relative Or friend out of town, Buy a Grayling paper And send it right down.

On Sunday, October 25th Beginning at one until four, At the Grayling American Legion Hall, We'll wait at the door.

And we'll all be so happy To see you once more.
